

I'm Becky Mitchell, the 2018 Idaho Teacher of the Year, and I am pleased to endorse the re-election of Sherri Ybarra for Idaho Superintendent of Public Instruction. In my position, I've worked closely with Superintendent Ybarra since 2018 and found her to bring an understanding of the challenges facing teachers in classrooms every day.

She has listened to the viewpoints of stakeholders, utilizing teachers, students, and parents in committees, panels, and advisories. She tirelessly advocates for schools and students, putting their needs first. Sherri Ybarra is the voice for schools because as a former teacher and administrator, she has the experience in education needed for our Superintendent of Public Instruction.
